Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 2 (AP)—An altercation between Democrats Hicks Griffiths and Violet Patterson was finally a matter of public knowledge today.

The incident, kept secret the better part of five days, evidently involved some limited physical exertion on the part of both the principals.

It took place in the Wayne county building last Saturday.

Griffiths and Mrs. Patterson are on opposite sides of the fence in the present Democratic division. He is anti-Franco and she is pro-Franco.

Last Saturday—as both confirmed here yesterday—they had differences at an informal group meeting in the county building lobby.

On the exact details, however, both were vague, though they agreed that a revolving door had a part in it.

Griffiths said Mrs. Patterson struck him on the back of his neck with "her hand or a pocket-book" and that he dodged into the door and they went "round and round together."

That was about the way Mrs. Patterson described it, too.

"It's a chemical reaction that sets in every time I see Hicks Griffiths," she said.

Yangtze Peace Pact Believed In Making

President Li May Fly To Communist Territory

By HAROLD K. MILKS

Nanking, Feb. 2 (AP)—Acting president Li Tsung-Jen may fly to Communist territory to try for peace.

Sources close to Li said today he had the flight under consideration but that it would be made only if all other peace efforts collapsed.

Li is high on the Communist list of war criminals. Many doubt that he could make more than a local peace involving Nanking, Shanghai and Hankow and the rest of the lower Yangtze valley.

"The time has passed," said one Chinese leader, "when Li or anyone other than Chiang Kai-shek can make a national agreement. There is doubt that Chiang could make a pact binding on all areas of China."

Delivery of the lower Yangtze from Hankow to the sea in exchange for concessions would resemble the transaction by which Gen. Fu Tso-Yi surrendered Peiping.

The absence of strong military forces from the Nanking area strengthened the belief Li is making some progress toward a Yangtze peace pact. There has been official silence on the subject, however.

Director of Budget At Lansing Becomes Treasury Watchdog

Lansing, Feb. 2 (AP)—C. J. McNeill resigned as state budget director today to become the legislature's "watch dog of the treasury."

McNeill, who has served in the budget office under three governors of different political faith and has been in state government for more than a decade, will be attached to the legislative service bureau officially, but actually will work directly for the House and Senate appropriating committees.

His $10,000 salary as budget director will continue in the legislative post.

Franco Holds Out Olive Branch To Democratic Foes

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 2 (AP)

—An olive branch was held out to rival Michigan Democrats by peace-seeking John R. Franco today.

His adversaries weren't crowding up to grab it, however.

Indicating anxiety for "party harmony," Franco proposed a compromise over the issue at the twice-dated state convention.

The state chairman would have two conventions—one for this Saturday—Feb. 5—and the other for his own chosen date of Feb. 26.

In substance, his idea was that the second meeting would ratify actions of the first one and, in his view, "the legality" of all the proceedings.

Franco's proposal came out of a state central committee meeting which he called here yesterday.

However, no more than half a dozen party members acknowledged his call and were present, according to a count of noses by observers.

At a meeting in Lansing Monday which Franco didn't attend, there were 47 members present in person or by proxy. The committee has 68 members.

That group ratified the Saturday convention date.

Franco's compromise proposal, which he termed "feasible, reasonable and legal," was a four-point plan.

The party's official chairman, who has been long coldly treated by Governor Williams and most of the party's hierarchy, agreed to recognize the Saturday convention.

The "legal state central committee," he said, would regard the meeting as legal in intent.

Afterwards, the committee would certify the convention's spring election nominees, then Franco would call Feb. 18 conventions for counties which so far have not met, and finally there would be a "legal state convention" on Feb. 26.

For practical purposes the Feb. 26 convention, Franco said, would be a reconvening of the Saturday meeting.

If something of this sort is not worked out, Franco said, the Saturday meeting could not be considered legal.

Hook Of Ironwood Charged With Libel By Sen. Ferguson

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—While Senate investigators continued a check of Michigan voting machine, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) was on record today charging former Rep. Frank Hook with "wilful and malicious libel."

Hook, an Ironwood, Mich., Democrat, has challenged Ferguson's re-election over him by a 40,827 plurality.

Among other things, Hook alleged fraud and error by election officials in Genesee, Shiawassee and Macomb counties, and claimed that Ferguson used his circuit judgeship in Detroit to "build himself up politically."

Rural Frauds Alleged

Ferguson, it was learned, filed a sworn statement with the Senate rules committee Jan. 14 but it has not been made public.

His statement said Hook's "reckless and malicious" allegations constituted "libel on the officials and people of Michigan."

Along this line he specifically mentioned Hook's charge that "for years it has been the usual practice throughout rural Michigan to fraudulently increase Republican and decrease Democratic votes."

Ferguson also denied knowledge of any illegal contributions to his campaign fund or the use of any such funds for his benefit.

His November opponent, he said, used "the normal process of an election contest as a subterfuge for libelous utterances."

In Detroit, meanwhile, a spokesman for the Senate investigators said voting machine results already had been cleared in Grand Rapids.

Death Penalty Bill Studied At Lansing

No Capital Punishment In State Since 1845

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, Feb. 2 (AP)—A bill to provide the death penalty for murder in Michigan was filed for introduction in the House today.

Michigan, which has been without capital punishment for nearly 104 years, will be asked to provide for electrocution at Southern Michigan prison for first degree murderers.

The present penalty is a mandatory life sentence.

The measure is sponsored by Rep. Eugene C. Betz (R-Monroe) who nearly succeeded in pushing an identical bill through the legislature two years ago.

At that time, the bill passed the House by one vote, but failed in the Senate. Several previous attempts to enact the death penalty have failed.

Betz said he was starting a survey to find how many first degree murderers are in Michigan prisons and how many are free on commutations.

"Let's not forget," he said, "all those in prison—and there must be hundreds—are costing the taxpayers of Michigan some $1,400 a year each for their keep."

The death penalty was abolished in Michigan, one of the first states to take that action, in 1845, 12 years after it was admitted to statehood.

The administration labor program under consideration is repeal of the Taft-Hartley act plus restoration of the old Wagner act with certain modifications requested by President Truman.

The committee began hearings Monday, but sessions moved along so slowly that Democratic leaders began to fear they wouldn't be finished by the February 10 deadline set 10 days ago.

Yesterday it was decided that each morning on hearings will start at 9:30 a. m. EST and run to 10 p. m. except on Sunday and on days when the Senate is in session.

Oral statements will be limited to 10 minutes. The time will be divided equally between those for and against the administration program.

Royall Checks With MacArthur On Red Gains In The Orient

Tokyo, Feb. 2 (AP)—Army Secretary Kenneth Royall said today he will discuss with General MacArthur military gains of the Communists in the Orient.

The U. S. cabinet officer emphasized, however, "that is not the purpose of my visit."

He said he wanted to learn military problems from the commanders in the Pacific field. His itinerary calls for visits to Okinawa, Hawaii, Korea, Guam and possibly the Philippines. He plans to skip China, he said.

COMPOSER DIES—Herbert Stothart, Broadway and Hollywood musical composer for more than two decades, is dead at the age of 64.

He died here yesterday after several months' illness.

Stothart was born in Milwaukee, attended the University of Wisconsin and was on its faculty for a time.

URGES ECONOMY

Testifying before the House Executive Expenditures Committee, former President Herbert Hoover urges Congress to enact the new Reorganization Bill to unwind "thousands of strands of red tape" now hampering even the best government officials.

He also warned that this country has reached "the saturation point" in taxation and government costs, and declared cost of government must be reduced. (NEA Telephoto)

Showdown Indicated In Rail Pay Dispute

Non-Operating Unions Study Wage Offer

Chicago, Feb. 2 (AP)—The principals in the lengthy railroad wage-hour dispute today asked the presidential fact-finding board to re-enter the dispute and "try and work out a settlement between us."

The request was made jointly by George Leighty, representing the 16 non-operating unions totaling some 1,000,000 members, and Daniel Loomis, of the carriers.

They said both sides agreed to ask the return of the board.

It was dissatisfaction with this same board's recommendation last year that preceded the lengthy current talks.

The negotiators met today without giving any hint of how close they were to settling the ten-month-old dispute.

The railroads submitted a proposal at yesterday's meeting. Its terms were not disclosed but a union official described it as one "for settling the principal points of the dispute."

No Peace Dickers With Stalin Yet, Washington Says

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman has received no invitation from Prime Minister Stalin for a meeting to discuss United States-Russian differences.

The president's position against leaving the United States for such a discussion is unchanged, it was added.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross, asked about a published report that the Soviet leader had suggested a meeting in Russia, Poland or Czechoslovakia, told a news conference that Mr. Truman has not received any communication from Stalin on the subject.

Brief Cold Spell All Over In Dixie

Atlanta, Feb. 2 (AP)—"Rather nice weather over most of the southeast," was the weatherman's gift to a cold-conscious Dixie today.

Except for a little rain along the Gulf coast and extreme South Georgia, folks in this part of the country can enjoy clear skies and sunshine. Temperatures "just a little below normal" were forecast.

The south's short seige of freezing temperatures, rain, sleet and snow is over for the next two or three days at least, said the weatherman. Thursday will bring heavy clouds and some rain over most of the southeast, but temperatures will remain mild.

Continued rather pleasant weather is South Florida's outlook, where the mercury will be a little higher than usual.

FIRE BODIES HUNTED—In Ruins Of Hotel Fire at Ripon, Wis.

Ripon, Wis., Feb. 2 (AP)—Search was resumed today for the bodies of five persons believed to have perished in the fire which destroyed the Grand View hotel yesterday.

One unidentified body was recovered from the ruins last yesterday, but Police Chief Ira Dunham said five other hotel guests still were unaccounted for.

Cause of the blaze in the four-story brick veneer building has not been determined. Dunham said 48 guests occupied 40 rooms in the hotel. All but six guests were located after they escaped or had been rescued.

Some were taken to hospitals suffering injuries and exposure. Listed as missing and presume dead were Lloyd Wasserbach, 27, Albert Bleich, 60, both of Madison, Wis.; Robert Wingler, 32, Iowa City, Ia.; Charles Wendland, 80, Alice Callan, 52, and Clara Solverson, 62, all of Ripon.

Powers Support Norway To Beat Soviet Pressure

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP)—The United States and other Atlantic powers were expected today to give Norway speedy support in her resistance to Russian pressure against joining the projected North Atlantic alliance.

Diplomats predicted that the seven nations already negotiating the pact here would lose no time in making Norway one of their group. This presumably would have the effect of fixing Norway's position firmly and might thereby strengthen the hand of the Oslo government in any further exchanges with Moscow.

The fact that Norway and several other countries will soon be invited to discuss the military alliance project was officially disclosed yesterday by the state department.

Boundary Hot Spot

The state department has not yet made public a list of the nations which it and the other negotiating powers hope may be included in the expanded pact. They are reported to include Italy, Portugal, Ireland, Iceland and probably Denmark, in addition to Norway.

Already in the negotiations are the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Of all these 13 nations Norway is the only one which has a common border with Russia. That frozen boundary, at the top of the European continent, is one of the world's diplomatic hot spots today.

This comes about as the result of two occurrences. Last Saturday night the Russians expressed to Norway their strong opposition to the North Atlantic security project. They asked whether Norway intended to join and if so whether membership would obligate the Norwegians to grant bases to foreign powers. The Norwegians were reminded that they were neighbors of the powerful Soviet Union.

Warning Rejected

Last night the Norwegians announced the reply. In effect it rejected Russia's implied warning not to join the pact by stating that Norway intended to examine the possibilities of an Atlantic security arrangement. As for bases, the Norwegians said they did not intend to grant any unless they were attacked or threatened with attack.

Not in almost a year had Russia come to such a point of diplomatic differences with a neighbor. What the Soviets might do next was a subject of considerable speculation here.

Lansing, Feb. 2 (AP)—Some gaudy slot machines with a shoddy past were being smashed into junk today.

State Police used sledge hammers on 105 gambling machines seized in raids during November, 1945, by the Ingham county gambling conspiracy grand jury.

The machines, with their gay apples, peaches and plums to denote payoffs, brought prison sentences to several operators and law enforcement officials accused of giving and taking bribes to keep the machines operating.

Even while they were gathering dust in a storage warehouse, the machines caused trouble. Two warehouse employees admitted looting the machines of their silver and received suspended sentences on larceny charges.

The 1945 raids resulted in graft conspiracy warrants against Laurence A. Lyon, former chief of the state police uniform division, and John F. O'Brien former Lansing chief of police. Both pleaded guilty to receiving bribes for gambling protection.

Lyon is still serving a three to five year prison sentence. O'Brien served 60 days in the county jail and was put on two years probation after he made restitution of $5,600 in bribe money.

Fish Tug Fights Ice Jam Off Saugatuck

Coast Guard Takes Food To Men On Board

Holland, Mich., Feb. 2 (AP)—Crewmen on a fishing tug, their food and fuel supplies bolstered by daring Coast Guardsmen, planned to try again today to free their vessel from slush ice which had locked it tight since Monday night.

The 35-foot tug "Cherrie" was stranded about a mile out in Lake Michigan off a point three miles north of Saugatuck.

The Coast Guard cutter Sundew, based at Milwaukee, stood ready to help if the tug is unable to free itself.

Wallace Chambers, owner of the Cherrie, set out Monday morning from South Haven with four other men to pick up fishing nets for the winter.

That night the craft became ice-bound and the crew stayed aboard. Then Tuesday morning two of the men picked their way ashore.

Later in the day three Coast Guardsmen from the Holland Station, using ice picks and pike poles to test their footing, felt their way over the treacherous, heaving ice to get food and coal to the other three crewmen.

Aided by these provisions, the remaining crewmen decided to stay aboard over night and try again today to free the tug. They were hoping for a change in wind which would shift the ice, which had windrowed to 20 feet high in some places.

Williams Proposes Four Percent Levy To Erase Red Ink

Net Revenue Estimated At 57 To 61 Million

By JACK I. GREEN

Lansing, Feb. 2 (P)—Governor Williams asked the legislature today to enact what amounts to a state corporation income tax.

Technically, he proposed a corporate franchise tax of four per cent of net income.

This, he said, would yield the state additional net income of $57,000,000 to $61,000,000 to meet the anticipated state deficit in years to come.

Williams rejected proposals for an individual income tax or an increase in so-called nuisance taxes.

He proposed that the present corporate franchise tax, which is based on capitalization, be cancelled if the new tax based on corporate income is enacted.

The governor has told the legislature that the state faces a deficit this year of $48,000,000 and $61,000,000 in the succeeding year because there will be no remaining state surplus to reduce the deficit.

"These unpleasant facts can not be met by any other expedient

After the wage proposal is prepared again with the employees before any report is submitted to the board of supervisors.

At Gladstone the employees will confer with the city commission on a proposed schedule of wages and working conditions.

Firemen who battled the flames for more than three hours said the interior of the building was destroyed. Official papers and records, however, were removed. The building housed the city hall, library and a civic auditorium. Attached but not seriously damaged was the city fire department.

City officials said the building, with an estimated value of $75,000, was only partly insured. Cause of the fire was not known.

ROCK FARMERS HOLD MEETING

Dairy Breeders Unit Of A.B.A. Is Proposed

Dairy farmers of the Rock area met last night to discuss the proposed organization of an Artificial Breeding Association that would provide A. B. A. service within a 15-mile radius of Rock, including a part of Marquette county.

J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent, presented a moving picture on the operation of artificial breeding units and answered questions regarding methods of organizing into an association. Thirty-five dairy farmers attended the meeting.

Following the discussion in which it was indicated that an effort will be made to sign up farmers with herds totaling 450 or more cows, a temporary board was elected to contact other dairy farmers of the area for the purpose of determining whether an association is feasible. The group was confident of organization, since farmers at the meeting own more than 200 cows.

At least 450 cows are necessary before an association could be effectively operated. If the plan is approved and organization is completed an inseminator will be hired and service started next spring. The temporary board is composed of Elmer Lepisto, Eero Saarikko, Henry Soderstrom, Gils Jodecy, Donald Mills and Bernard Kivioja.

City Crew Calls Cool Kitty From Cold Tree Perch

This is the story of a cat in the cold. The big fellow, gray, with stripes on his tail, selected one of the coldest days, or maybe nights, of the year to scoot up a tree at the corner of Sixth avenue south and 12th street.

For two days and nights he remained in his perch, disdaining the efforts of children and their fathers and mothers in the neighborhood to coax him down—and it is reported that one housewife braver than the rest climbed a ladder in the sub-zero temperature in an attempt to reach him.

This morning, however, the Escanaba city electrical department was notified. In no time they were at the scene, the ladders were hoisted, and kitty removed from the branches. Cold and hungry, but apparently little harmed by his experience, he was taken in by Mrs. Howard A. Kell of 623 South 12th street, who will keep him until she finds a good home for him.

C&NW Passenger Train Is Slowed By Long Freight

Southbound Chicago & North Western passenger train No. 214 scheduled to arrive in Escanaba at 9:28 a. m. from Ishpeming, was delayed one hour and ten minutes this morning by a freight train at Bay Siding south of Brampton.

The freight train was too long for the siding and the passenger train, replacing the "400" streamliner equipment damaged Monday morning in a derailment at Rock, followed the freight to Escanaba. Another difficulty was that the freight could not immediately proceed to Escanaba because of a northbound freight.

The passenger train was 15 minutes late going through Brampton, partly because of the need for reduced speeds over the quarter-mile section of repaired track at Rock.

Otherwise the North Western's train schedule is being maintained between Escanaba and Ishpeming. The first passenger over the track repair at Rock was the northbound train to Ishpeming last night.

Michigan Traffic Fatalities Total 184 In December

Lansing, Feb. 2 (AP)—Traffic deaths in Michigan in December totaled 184, the highest since 219 lost their lives in November, 1941. State police reported that the December toll averaged six deaths a day. It exceeded the previous December by 49.

Injuries during the month totaled 3,961, highest for any month of the year. Oddly, the total number of accidents in the month declined. There were 13,857 accidents compared with 15,516 in December, 1947.

State police reported that nearly half of the drivers involved in fatal accidents were violating the law, with fast driving heading the list of violations.

The December total brings to 1,477 the number of persons killed in Michigan traffic in 1948. This represents an increase of 30 over 1947.

Cargo Planes Drop Hay And Food For Snowbound Navajos

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 2 (AP)—A squadron of Navy aircraft dropped hay and food parcels over snow-bound regions of northern Arizona today in an all-out effort to save starving livestock and game and stranded humans.

The military craft—six four-engine cargo ships and nine twin-engine planes—were conducting shuttle flights between Winslow and the stricken area to the north in the Navajo Indian reservation. Winslow has been converted into a supply depot for the operation.

The Navy aircraft were supplemented by air force cargo ships and a number of civil air patrol light craft in the grublift operations.

Commander A. P. Coffin, in charge of the naval air operation, said a helicopter brought here from San Francisco probably would not be used. A survey over

Labor Bill Must Protect Public

THE TRUMAN ADMINISTRATION presented its proposal for revision of the Taft-Hartley act Monday and amazingly enough, the administration plan contained no forceful provision for preventing nation-wide strikes that would cripple the nation's economy.

Secretary of Labor Tobin proposed instead that a cooling off period be established after which it is hoped that public opinion would serve to prevent a crippling strike.

Public opinion is indeed a potent weapon, but its power is effective only upon people who respect the rights of others. Public opinion would be woefully inadequate in dealing with John L. Lewis, for instance. Lewis has consistently shown a disdain for public opinion, even to the point of calling a coal strike while the nation was at war.

Whatever changes are invoked in the nation's labor law, it is essential that the government retains authority to protect the public against strikes that choke the country's economic life. Certainly it is not enough that public opinion alone be relied upon to do the job. Anyway, the problem generally has been disintegrated to the point of calamity before public opinion is sufficiently crystallized as an effective medium.

We cannot believe that the 81st Congress will go along with the president on a wishy-washy labor law that delivers the people's rights to the discretion of the labor czars.

God Hates A Coward

AN EDITORIAL, concerning the Republican party's past and future and appearing in the Omaha World-Herald, has aroused much comment throughout the country.

The editorial, entitled "God Hates A Coward", appeared in the World-Herald on Jan. 26 and is reprinted for the benefit of Escanaba Daily Press readers as follows: That's gospel truth. If any witness were needed to attest it the Republican party of 1916-1948 would more than suffice.

For 12 years the Republican party has been a coward; the worst kind of coward—a moral coward. In consequence it begins to take on the appearance of something the cat dragged in.

It is hard to define as an entity the Republican party or any other large group of people, since however closely banded together all cannot think alike in all respects. But, speaking broadly, the Republican party consists of men and women who in firm conviction are opposed to the swift trend toward the omnipotent state that is sweeping over every section of the earth. Whether it be defined as communism, fascism, socialism, totalitarianism, statism, the New Deal, the Insurance State, these men and women regard it as a thing of infinite menace, however cunningly, disguised, and however ardently supported by good but misguided people.

But the Republican party has lacked the courage to say what its rank and file believe. Out of hunger for the flesh pots it has lacked the patriotism, the loyalty, to stand up for the free Republic of the founding fathers and to fight for it. Due to that lack of moral courage, of loyalty to the American creed, the United States, almost the sole remaining bulwark against the advancing tide, finds itself without a spokesman, without a champion to proclaim and battle for its traditional, glorious creed. And it finds the once-so-firm foundations of its temple crumbling.

The fact is known of all men.

Here too, in our own America, the state is taking control and ownership of the people. It is using the power to tax to destroy their independence and self-reliance. It is converting free men into vassals and dependents. It is devouring the substance of self-supporting people to render them self-supporting no longer, and to establish a condition of universal reliance upon the biased paternalism of a Great White Father—a "Father" corrupted and corrupting, since great power does corrupt and absolute power corrupts absolutely.

And the Republican party has not dared resist the tide; it has gone along with it. Not out of conviction, but out of cowardice. It has not dared to be a Daniel; to have a purpose and to make it known. Its plea for votes has been the shameful one. Give us the offices, the power, and we'll give you as much of what we believe to be wrong as will the Democrats themselves.

Americans do not respond to any such appeal. They, too, hate a coward. They despise hypocrisy. They hunger for a leadership of good faith. They will accept a brave and fighting leadership tainted even with Fendegastism and absolutism rather than a leadership that crawls—and trails its flag.

What a wonderful thing it would be if the Republican National Committee meeting here in Omaha, if other constituted Republican leaders, could realize how desperately these United States need an honest and brave Republican party—how true Republicans above all others hunger and thirst for it! A Republican party to raise high the flag of a loyal opposition! Opposition not alone to a misguided and recreant Democratic party here at home, but opposition tenacious and resolute, brave and unyielding, to all the monstrous wrong and error that today menaces freedom, self-reliance, the courage to adventure, human dignity, in every land and every clime.

How joyously, with what reborn hope, men and women of the ancient faith of this Republic would rally about such a standard! Proud of it they would be in victory. No less proud in defeat!

Surely, surely, it shall not be recorded by amazed historians of a later day, that when the black flag of Absolution was raised back in the Twentieth Century, when the fate of all mankind was involved, there was nowhere, in any land, not even our own, an organized body of men and women who had the courage, the devotion, the wisdom, the loyalty to God who made men free, to challenge that foul intruder and to dedicate their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor, to driving him back into the Dark Ages when he emerged!

Never has there been sounded such a call to service as rings today in the ears of the Republican party. Never, for men and women of courage, of character, of conviction, has there been afforded such an occasion for rising to the heights of human devotion to imperishable ideals.

The Republican party can keep on crawling ignominiously along the dusty trail of an order it abhors but shrinks from challenging. Or it can rise out of the dust of four merited defeats, stand erect and unafraid, proudly to take up the battle for all that free men prize.

Courage or cowardice? Loyalty or recreancy? Conviction or time serving?

It is as simple as that, ladies and gentlemen of the Republican National Committee.

Impatient Month

THERE IS SOMETHING about the second month that can get a bit on a man's nerves. One knows it is still the heart of winter; Earth is locked tight and the valley creek moves slowly under its covering of ice and snow. When one lives in a region with four distinct climatic seasons he learns to recognize the on-comings and out-goings. February, one hopes, is the end of winter though one is always uncertain about the cantankerous disposition of the approaching third month.

Nature is patient as the revolving seasons come and go, but man has not yet learned to put himself completely in tune with the verities. Now that the seed catalogs have been studied and one has resolved to have a garden this year that approximates the beautiful pictures in the paper-covered booklet, it is unfortunate that Spring is not just around the corner. Winter has certain satisfactions; it has glorious beauty on white hills and spreading fields. But now that February is here there is impatience that grows with stubbornly permanent cold.

There are, of course, welcome thawing spells in the second month when water drips from the eaves and little streams poke exploringly along the sled tracks. But one knows that Nature's time-table is fundamentally undisturbed. In the soil dormant roots are resting their ordained time; hibernating animals are still in their deep sleep. Go to the woodland and study the lightly-wrapped buds. They tell us that we must be patient for a time yet. When a warm spell ends, likely as not February will throw a roaring blizzard across the countryside. As the wind whines and roars around the north end of the house one is glad this is February instead of December. One may be forgiven a bit of impatience now that Winter's back is broken. There's a new feeling in the air on a February morning and a welcome warmth at noon on a sunny day. Night no longer drops like a light-obliterating curtain; twilight lingers a spell and a man can start his chores without a lantern. Mother is already talking of starting tomatoes, asters and petunias in the boxes at the south window of the kitchen. In this mind Father is planning the season's work. It's a good thing February is the shortest month of the year. When February shows on the big General Store calendar, one is justified in looking ahead to spring.

BIBLICAL LANGUAGE AND HOW TO USE IT (Scrapbook Item)

Several ministers and religious workers have requested a discussion of the correct use of the Biblical "thou, thee, thy, thine," etc. One writes, "It is customary to use these forms in spoken prayers; but I do not understand the difference between thou, and thee, thy and thine, and so forth."

It is important to get them straight; to do so, we'll have to consider grammar, as well as Biblical usage.

Thou is nominative, second person, singular; that is, it is used in speaking directly to a single person or the deity who creates the action. Example: "Thou preparest a table before me."

Thou is objective, second person, singular, used in speaking to a single person or the deity who receives the action. Example: "Much learning doth make thee mad."

Ye is nominative, second person, plural, used in speaking to two or more persons who create the action. Example: Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

You is objective, second person, plural, used in speaking to two or more persons who receive the action. Example: "Ask, and it shall be given you."

Thy is the possessive your, and is used before words beginning with a consonant. Example: "Thy rod and thy staff they com-

'Bold New Plan' Long Prepared

BY PETER EDSON

Washington. (NEA) — President Truman's surprise package in his inauguration message called for "a bold new program for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped countries."

Actually, the president's budget message scooped his inaugural message on this item by 10 days, with a request for $15,000,000. That sum was, comparatively, such chicken feed that nobody paid any attention to it.

Also, this kind technical assistance has been going on in the government since 1938. For the first 10 years it has been confined to Latin-America. Last year $4,000,000 was spent on it.

In the so-called Smith-Mundt "Voice of America" bill passed by the 80th Congress, authorization was given to extend this lending of American know-how to the Eastern Hemisphere. The catch was that Congress didn't appropriate any money to carry it out.

MANY TYPES OF ACTIVITY

The types of activity which will be carried out under this plan can best be indicated by projects actually in progress in Latin-America. Since 1938, nearly 250 U. S. specialists have been loaned 20 American republics for from nine days to two and a half years each.

The projects resulting from the loan of these technical experts have run into many millions of dollars, paid for by the governments getting the assistance. The cost of the experts to the U. S. government has averaged only a little over $5,000 apiece. In many cases the foreign governments have paid part or all of this.

This is about the cheapest kind of assistance which the United States can give to the underdeveloped countries, and a case can be made that it does 'em a lot more good than giving 'em guns, which cost a lot more.

Management of all these projects is now carried on by the jaw-breaker named Interdepartmental Committee on Scientific and Cultural Co-operation. Its chairman is Assistant Secretary of State George V. Allen and its active head is Haldore Hanson of the State Department, who is now in South America checking up on his 100 current projects. ICSCC takes in some 36 branches of 25 major departments and agencies of the federal government.

SOME OF PROJECTS OF ICSCC

Here are some of the projects which it now has at work:

Argentina—An entomologist advising on movement of fruit.

Bolivia—Three agricultural experts working at an experiment station on crop improvement and an aviation expert at LaPaz.

Brazil—One expert working on development of a blight-resistant natural rubber. Three geologists surveying iron ore deposits. Four social security advisers.

Colombia—One irrigation expert at Bogota. Two more agricultural research men. One expert on labor standards. One anthropologist on Indian problems.

Costa Rica—Five experts on rubber development and one investigating coffee plant disease. One adviser on labor standards and another on agricultural statistics and census.

Cuba—One expert on development of kenaf, an Asian hibiscus fiber used for making raw sugar bags. Three scientists working in migratory bird surveys. A labor standards expert.

Ecuador—Three agricultural experts working on ryethrum, an insecticide plant, and two at a cacao experiment station. A nurse training midwives for ministry of health. Another labor standards man.

El Salvador—Fifteen experts working on soil research and tropical agricultural products.

Haiti—Two rubber experts, a geologist surveying bauxite deposits and a census expert.

Mexico—Three rubber experts. A nurse instructing midwives. A labor standards man. Two anthropologists. Five geologists and metallurgists studying copper, lead and zinc deposits and mining.

Nicaragua—Three experts doing research on palm oil, cacao, abaca, vanilla, ginger, and other products imported by the U. S.

Panama—Three experts on mahogany and teak wood forestry.

Peru—Seven agricultural experts working on rubber, cinchona, insecticide and animal husbandry projects. Four civil aviation and weather advisers. A geologist on lead-zinc survey. Two census experts.

fort me."

Thine is the possessive your, and is used before words beginning with a vowel and sometimes before words beginning with "h." Example: "Take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry." "Set thine house in order."

My is used before words beginning with a consonant. Example: "My little daughter lieth at the point of death."

Mine is used before words beginning with a vowel. Example: "I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids."

Shalt, wilt, wert, and art are used in the present tense when speaking to a single person or the deity. Examples: "Thou shalt not kill." "Wilt thou be angry with us forever?" "O that thou wert as my brother." "For thou, Lord, art good and ready to forgive."

The terminals -est and -st are used with singular verbs of the second person. Example: "O thou that dwellest in the heavens." "When I cried thou answerest me."

The terminals -eth and -th are used with singular verbs of the third person. Example: "A wise son maketh a glad father." "He that repeateth a matter separateth very friends."

"Yoo Hoo, Neighbor!"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

BACKFIRING—Every so often circumstances seem to conspire against a person. No matter how hard you try to make a success of an undertaking it backfires, and all is lost.

Dunathan

The flying windmill was used to lift timbers up the bare face of the mountain, and government men said the operation was "cheaper" than having men pack it up the mountain trail.

A couple days after this announcement there was a news report that the helicopter had crashed on the top of the mountain and burned. Luckily, the pilot escaped. What became of the proposed lookout tower hasn't been revealed.

CLOSER HOME—Drain commissioners have a hard time of it, and as an association of drain commissioners in Michigan it is even worse. Take, if you wish, the experience of Gerald L. Graham, Mason county drain commissioner. He wanted meetings of drain commissioners held, and legislative changes discussed. He wrote to drain commissioners in other counties asking for their "reactions" and chiding them for not attending meetings.

"Please don't hurt our feelings by not telling us anything," he pleaded. "Let's hear from you."

Some of the boys in Schoolcraft county (perhaps this is not the place to mention names) decided to oblige Mr. Graham. Before we tell you about their reply, we might explain that in most counties the office of drain commissioner carries with it few responsibilities and no pay. The Schoolcraft county was wrote Graham of the "progress" being made there:

"In an effort to help the drainage of our local area we imported some 500,000 sponge-frogs to take care of the excess water in Poedle-Pete's swamp, an area located just south of Manistique. We were amazed with the results, because they were so disastrous. We found that all the mouth-organ timber in that particular area has died off as a result of the experiment."

Now the problem was to keep the sponge-frogs out of the Soney wildlife refuge, they said, adding: "If you are having trouble with the drainage in your locality, why don't you try sponge-frogs?" Mr. Graham never replied.

SHE TRIED IT—Stop me if you've heard this one. It concerns the wife whose husband was a somewhat reluctant social butterfly and couldn't be easily persuaded to go out for an evening of innocent relaxation. So his wife got together with the wives of his cronies and together they planned a pot luck supper affair.

She broke the news to hubby and he seemed to go for the idea. Happily she dressed for the event, calling to her husband to be sure and take that paper sack of garbage from the kitchen counter and burn it when he fixed the furnace. She hummed a tune until she returned to the kitchen, then she gasped in horror.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Manistique—Miss Merle Olson, student nurse in Augustana hospital in Rock Island, Ill., has returned to her studies after spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Omer Olson.

Gladstone—H. W. Marquardt has returned to Milwaukee after spending a few days here conferring with A. C. Peterson, Soo Line peninsula division superintendent, and other Gladstone officials, relative to providing "ski trains" to the Gladstone Ski Park.

Munising—Mrs. Irma Clement of Shingleton has been named county agent to succeed Mrs. John Howard. Mrs. Clement will work in conjunction with Probate Judge James Hosking in handling delinquent children.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. John Lindstrom have left for a two-month visit in Los Angeles.

Manistique—Alphonse Verschure of Hlawatha township has been awarded first place in the Michigan potato growing contest. He also won in 1927.

Gladstone—Mrs. James LaVelle and son Jack have left for Winslow, Ariz., where they will visit several weeks before going to Los Angeles where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bidlecomb.

Men with matrimony in mind look at a woman's nose before they look at her eyes or legs. —Dr. Robert Alan Franklyn, Hollywood plastic surgeon.

The sack that her husband had tossed into the furnace contained —you guessed it—not the garbage but the cake she had baked for the pot luck supper. The sack of garbage was still there, and as she mused over her heartbreak she probably decided that nothing ever turns out right, no matter how well you plan.

THE OTHER WAY—Sometimes you don't make plans at all —and everything turns out right after all.

Glenn Gregg, regional supervisor of parks and recreation for the conservation department in the Upper Peninsula, mentioned such a happening in a talk the other day to the Delta County Historical Society. Gregg was telling the Society how the museum was established at Fort Wilkins state park at the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula.

Lacking in the museum was some examples of early day bottles, the kind that contained alcoholic liquors. The fort was built during the Civil War period and there was little doubt that soldiers there fortified themselves against the rigors of the climate and the lonely life along the Lake Superior shore. At that time Fort Wilkins was a desolate outpost.

While at the park last summer Gregg and the caretaker were walking along the fort entrance road and Gregg pointed out a collection of tin cans and bottles discarded by tourists. They should be cleaned up, he said. The caretaker raked the junk out — and among the bottles, partly buried beneath a cedar tree, was a liquor bottle dating back to the time Fort Wilkins was occupied.

Not only that, but the bottle had contained spirits distilled at Eagle Harbor, one of the first settlements in the Copper Country. Quite by chance, therefore, Fort Wilkins museum has an interesting, old bottle in its display.

By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—Another of the faded figures of the second World War is gone from the American military scene.

And this one—Gen. Courtney H. Hodges—leaves a question mark behind him as he goes into retirement.

The question in many minds probably is: "Who is he?"

Well, he is a shy, quiet-voiced, gray-haired, slender man who commanded what some soldiers regard as the most powerful trained striking force in history—the American First Army.

The faces of Generals Eisenhower, MacArthur, Bradley and Patton are known to practically every man and boy in the land. Yet it is doubtful whether one American out of five could pick from a group in uniform the portrait of Gen. Hodges, who rolled a vast army from St. Lo in France to the River Elbe in Germany.

Why? He has had quite a career in 43 years. He flunked out of West Point, enlisted in the army as a private and rose to the rank of full general. The American First Army he commanded had quite a career, too.

It liked the name of being the First Army. And it lived up to its name in many years.

It was the American First Army that broke the Nazi line at St. Lo, in Normandy, after being first into France. It was first into Paris, and first American army into Belgium.

The American First Army was first into Germany. It was first to pierce Siegfried line. It was first to capture a major German city—Aachen. It was first across the Rhine at Remagen. It was the first Allied army to link up with the Russians along the River Elbe.

Yes, it was the American First Army. And Hodges commanded it all the way from St. Lo, when Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley turned it over to his guidance.

But there is a big difference between achievement and recognition. And there is a big difference between the public renown accorded Gen. George Patton and his famous Third Army and that enjoyed by Gen. Hodges and his First Army.

Today Patton, dead, is still better known than Hodges, alive and retired.

It is doubtful that Hodges regrets his name is less in the public memory than high-tempered glamorous "George" Patton's. But the fame he doesn't desire for himself he always has hoped would go to the army he led for the feats it performed.

Perhaps because he did flunk out of the military academy and worked up from private to general, Hodges became more traditional-bound than Patton, who was no scholar at West Point but did eventually graduate.

It is more likely, on the other hand, that the difference stemmed from a fundamental difference in personality. Life was always easy for Patton, the aristocrat, and hard for Hodges.

Hodges always fought his battles quietly, silently. Patton fought noisily—and advertised. Both led tremendous armies to spectacular victories.

If Hodges today has less of a hold on the public heart, it might be because a general who was a private perhaps remained—too private. He never played up himself. But what his army did will live and last.

And that is the way the little gentleman from Georgia would prefer to let the record stand.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—One of the famous names of France is "Quai D'Orsay," which actually means "Dock of Orsay," but which has come to mean the French foreign office, because of its location alongside the dock of Orsay.

Almost unknown is a railroad station alongside the foreign office called "Gare D'Orsay." It is a little-used station. No important persons ever arrive there. But just a month ago this station became most important to the American people.

Just a stone's throw from it at the Quai D'Orsay, the gentlemen in the gray-striped pants continued busy at their professional task of maintaining the proper relations between countries. But at the Gare D'Orsay a new kind of foreign relations was taking shape—a project in amateur diplomacy straight from the hearts of the French people.

For on the platform of the Gare D'Orsay were piled thousands of gifts for the Merici Train, which arrives in New York harbor today, as France's gesture of gratitude to the American people.

At Christmas time—the deadline for gifts to the Merici Train—the Gare D'Orsay was by all odds the busiest place in France. More than anything else it resembled a child's notion of Santa Claus's workshop.

MERCI AMERICA

There were dolls and dishes, historical documents, and a Rodin statue so precious it should have been in a museum. There were busts of Benjamin Franklin and busts of Franklin Roosevelt; paintings by the French masters, lacework and fancy silk dresses; and battle-torn flags from ancient wars. There were gifts from high personages and gifts from school children. There was a Napoleonic coach and the first motorcycle ever built; the flag that flew from the Eiffel tower when General Patton entered in 1944 and the flag that flew over Verdun in 1918.

And all of them said, in words or in spirit, "Merci, America."

A Paris business firm, carrying out this spirit of friendship, undertook to crate the gifts, without charge. It little dreamed what it bargained for. Gifts poured in from all corners of France, literally by the thousands every day. Last estimate is that the gifts—ranging from a tiny spoon to a giant bronze school bell—total 100,000.

The Gare D'Orsay, before the train's departure, was packed and jammed. Crates were everywhere. On the walls of the station were signs—"Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas. . ." And so on around the wall of the station to "West Virginia and Wyoming." Piled up by state were the gifts which the French committee believed most appropriate for each.

Finally they were all loaded into the old but now freshly painted boxcars labeled "40 Hommes, 8 Chevaux," which American soldiers knew so well in World War I. Then, after a journey to Havre, they were hoisted aboard the SS. Magellan, which today steams up New York harbor to salute the Statue of Liberty—the only similar gift of friendship from the people of any nation to the people of the United States.

TRUMAN ON INJUNCTIONS

Only the palace guard know it, but the administration's new labor bill was held up at the last minute by President Truman himself so that three major changes could be made.

One was a strong injunction clause to enable the government to crack down on John L. Lewis or any other labor leader who staged a strike endangering the national health and welfare.

This was stricken out at the last minute.

Also, the cooling-off period for a threatened strike was raised from 20 to 30 days.

Here's the inside story of how the changes came about:

BACKSTAGE CONFERENCE

One hour before Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin was scheduled to appear before the Senate labor committee on Friday morning, Charles Murphy, the White House legislative representative, reported to Truman that there was still disagreement on the strike injunction clause.

Truman immediately instructed Secretary Tobin to cancel his appearance before the Senate committee and to meet at the White House at 3 p. m. Friday. At the ensuing conference were: the president himself, Tobin, Murphy, Attorney General Tom Clark, Assistant John Steelman and Clark Clifford.

There ensued a pitched battle over blue- pencilling the injunction ban on strikes endangering public health and welfare. Clifford and justice department lawyers —except for Attorney General Clark—contended the injunction clause should be left in the bill. Steelman and Tobin wanted it out, argued that it was a gratuitous prejudgment of labor.

DENVER PICKED FOR NATO MEET

Executive Board Ends Meeting At Blaney

Blaney Park, Mich.—Denver was selected as the site of the annual convention of the National Association of Tourist Officials by the group's executive committee which closed its three-day session here today.

Denver was one of 19 cities submitting a bid for the 1949 convention, which will be held Oct. 24 to 27.

The executive committee, consisting of about twenty leaders in the travel industry from all parts of the country, heard reports on the campaign to induce Congress to repeal the 15 per cent excise tax on travel, and the plan to extend the vacation season.

NATO has launched a campaign for setting back Labor day to the third Monday in September. Legislation for this purpose has been introduced in five New England states and similar bills will be presented to the New York and New Jersey legislatures. The cooperation of the A. F. of L. and the CIO is being solicited.

The NATO members also discussed methods of improving recreational facilities and tourist advertising literature. It also plans to make regional surveys of travel conditions as a service to newspapers.

Brains Important To Today's Woman

A newspaper inquiring reporter who put the question "Would you rather have beauty or brains?" to a number of young women received answers that would have seemed surprising only a few years ago.

The girls thought brains were more important than beauty. And their reasons for thinking so all added up to about the same attitude. If a girl has brains, there's no excuse for her not turning herself into an attractive-looking person. But if she has looks without brains — she hasn't much chance of making a success of her life.

That, of course, is a sound attitude for young girls to have. Because beauty isn't enough today for a girl to build her life on.

Life Demands Much
Life demands too much of women for a woman to count on beauty to see her through. Most girls want careers at least for a few years before marriage. And many of them either want or need to work after marriage.

But even if a girl wants only marriage as a career she still needs brains if she is to be a real companion to her husband and a help to him in his career.

So the girl with brains is the girl who gets the breaks.

No wonder then that a smart girl who through careful attention to grooming and dressing is able to make herself reasonably attractive to look at wouldn't swap her brains for beauty alone.

It would be a poor trade today — as any girl who has tried to make her own way in the world soon realizes.

Pastor Throws His Voice; Sunday School Is 'SRO'

Rev. Willis P. Miller and "Victor." They made Sunday School in Lynn as popular as a cowboy matinee at the movies.

By GRACE DES CHAMPS
Lynn, Mass., (NEA)—A cheerful-faced wooden dummy named "Victor" is crowding youngsters into a Lynn church the way they used to crowd into the Sunday afternoon movies.

The transformation of the Bible into comedy, drama and high entertainment is playing to such large audiences that the First Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, has had to institute daily afternoon sessions.

Rev. Willis P. Miller, a youthful, talented minister with a gift for ventriloquism nurtured since his high school days, is the man behind "Victor," a dummy carved by the same artist who made Edgar Bergen's "Charlie McCarthy."

"Victor" wisecracks, asks serious questions or gives absurd answers which enable the minister, as he corrects the dummy, to draw special attention to the salient facts of a Bible narrative.

The dummy gives comedy relief to the story of David and Goliath by suggesting it was a Tommy gun or an atom bomb with which David slew Goliath; "Victor" also plays a serious role with a poignant note to the wanderings of Joseph.

The young minister paid $85 for "Victor" but the dummy has been worth his weight in gold.

Busted Merchant Truman Says U.S. Can Beat Slump

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, Feb. 2. (AP)—President Truman, the "busted merchant" of 1921, believes the United States can head off economic disaster.

And, he says, it must not only do that, but must follow through with the job of "world planning." "I think that before any disaster with which we may be faced comes about," said Mr. Truman, "we will be in a position to meet it."

He voiced his thoughts at a dinner of the National Planning association last night in an extemporaneous talk that was alternately humorous and deadly serious.

Efforts to make government serve the people more efficiently, Mr. Truman said, go hand in hand with economic planning to avert the disaster of depression.

He recalled he was a partner in a haberdashery store in Kansas

City in 1921 when a depression came along.

The "busted merchant," he said, got into politics and ran for county judge against "a very able and distinguished banker — and won the election."

Youngsters today want life, excitement and drama," Rev. Miller explains, "and we've got to find some way to give it to them."

Youngsters today want life, excitement and drama," Rev. Miller explains, "and we've got to find some way to give it to them."

The president spoke of the dark days from 1929 through 1932, of earlier depressions, and said planners, in and out of government, are working to prevent a recurrence of disaster.

Praising former President Herbert Hoover's government reorganization proposals, he said they would reduce the number of boards and bureaus reporting to the president.

He scoffed at talk of the powers of a president.

"The president spends most of his time kissing people on the cheek—first on one cheek and then on the other—trying to get them to do what they ought to do without being kissed," he said.

Mr. Truman predicted that the proposals to reduce this government bureau or that will bring "all sorts of cries and wails from people who are anxious to have certain special pets of their own left in the same position in which they are now."

As a matter of fact, he said, raising his hand above the banquet table, "I already have a stack of mail that high." He said it was made up of pleas that certain agencies "ought not to be disturbed."

Tiny New Lens For Eyes Held In Place By Tears

By DORETTA SALISBURY
Los Angeles, (NEA)—The lucite that made the bubble turrets of combat aircraft is now being turned into a sort of bubble turret for the poor-eyed public.

It is the material from which tiny new plastic lenses, covering only the cornea of the eye, are being produced. Although they were considered in the stage of "active research" until a few weeks ago, the corneal lenses may some day make contact lenses obsolete.

The lens caps only the colored part of the eye, and is held in place by natural capillary attraction. There is no flange to fit the eyeball, and no auxiliary fluid needed.

Nor do they flip out with a hearty slap on the back or a sly wink. Tears, just tears, hold them in. They are visible only to the expert.

Many ophthalmologists who have seen them say the new corneal lenses promise the most nearly perfect possible physical correction.

Kevin Tuohy, 30-year-old Los Angeles inventor who has worn his miniature contacts for more than a year, conceived the idea little more than two years ago. His wife, Marta, has discarded her own glasses to go along with her husband. They both see 20-20 (with their new "eyes") and, to date, have no complaints. They even wear them in swimming.

So far, Tuohy says, 750 cases are wearing the corneal lenses successfully, all of them still under close observation.

Most of these have been young persons—18 to 35 years—who disliked wearing glasses enough to go through the process of a fitting.

Prescription is made from ophthalmometric measurement. The first time anything comes in contact with the eye is when the lenses are tried on. The corneals are worn only 20 minutes the first day, with daily increases until in about a month they may be worn all day.

Inventor Kevin Tuohy peers around a sheet of lucite from which he makes the corneal lenses he also wears in his eyes.

An obvious drawback, of course, is the cost. In comparison to the conventional correction, the new lenses are expensive. Until manufacture becomes more production-line and the highly specialized training necessary for doctors to prescribe and fit becomes more widespread, the average myopic will have to dig somewhat deep to afford them.

Barring possibility of losing them, because of their diminutive size, the lenses are expected to last about five years for most wearers. Tiny scratches or blemishes from handling are compensated by a fill of tears.

Intensive experimentation and research is continuing at the Los Angeles College of Medical Evangelists, of which Tuohy has been a staff member since 1940, and at the White Memorial Hospital of Los Angeles, which has also figured prominently in the development.

Corneal lenses (center) are smaller than contact lenses (right) and fit in a lipstick-sized box when not in use.

Headlines Can't Hurt Rita; Stars Thrive On 'Bad Press'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Hollywood, (NEA)—I've said it before and I'll say it again—newspaper headlines can't hurt a movie star. Rita Hayworth and her married prince currently are taking editorial blasts from Hollywood trade papers as well as London newspapers.

Rita Hayworth

I'm not defending Rita. I'm just predicting she'll eventually return to Hollywood and be bigger box office than ever.

It's happened to Errol Flynn, Lana Turner, Bob Mitchum and others before them. Many a producer in Hollywood is saying today:

"I wish I could co-star Rita and Bob Mitchum in a picture. Brother, that would REALLY be box office."

Latest humor from the Hollywood economy front: There's a rumor that Paramount is letting some of its goldfish go. They've been swimming around the studio pool as long as I can remember and some of them are as large as trout. Naturally, the little fish will go first.

Teammate For Gable
M-G-M is talking about teaming Clark Gable and Joan Fontaine in a film after he completes "Any Number Can Play." ... It's official that Jack Benny will take screen credit as the producer of the Dottie Lamour-Brian Donlevy movie, "The Lucky Sniff." Earlier publicity went out crediting only his company, Amusement Enterprises, for the production ... Peter Lind Hayes heads for Hollywood and another movie after the night club stint in Miami ... Valli will divorce her husband, Oscar DeMejo, when she returns from Italy.

I am positive a Hollywood press agent named Milt Rosner had something to do with snow in California. Wasn't Milt beating the publicity drums for a record titled "Out of the Blue" when those flying discs suddenly appeared all over the U. S.? Wasn't Milt handling publicity on the "Woody Woodpecker" song and saying, "This is going to drive a lot of birds to suicide," when all those sparrows cracked up against the Empire State building? Isn't Milt now handling publicity for a stage show called "Icelandia?"

Personal Appearance
I wonder how many actors would tell this on themselves. Walter Pidgeon returned from the East to tell pals about visiting a friend's copper factory at Darien, Conn. When Pidge stepped out of the friend's car at the factory gates, he saw a big crowd, figured the people were there to see him and started shaking hands all around. The friend watched amused and finally said:

"It really isn't necessary, Walter. They're just waiting for their paychecks."

Carroll Righter, the Hollywood astrologist, just advised Linda Christian that the stars are right for her marriage to Ty Power. But are Ty's stars right? ... The bubble gum industry (now a multi-million dollar enterprise) is in keen competition with itself. Five representatives of various companies are bombarding the studios for tie-ups ... Hal Wallis' "Accused" is breaking attendance marks set by his previous thriller, "Sorry, Wrong Number," in Chicago and Detroit.

Aside to Jack Benny: More worries. Van Johnson will do a corny violin routine for "Good Old Summertime." They discovered he used to fiddle as a kid.

Mimic Arthur Blake turned a brilliant shade of red at the Palm Springs Chi-Chi when he spied Jimmy Roosevelt at a ringside table smack in the middle of his PDR impression. At the end of the routine, Roosevelt applauded and yelled, "Now do mother."

Blake obliged with a satire on Eleanor and Bess Truman having tea together.

B-Flat Above High C Wins New Career For Ex-GI At Wayne, Mich.

By NEA Service

Wayne, Mich., (NEA)—Arthur Peters is finally going to get started on the singing career a Milan music teacher said he was destined for when he was a GI machine gunner in Italy.

The wartime prediction was made because the Milan teacher heard Peters singing for his Army buddies. When he came back, he tried his luck as a night club singer, but quit to return to his wife and three children in Wayne and a job as an architectural engineer.

A month ago he read that the Metropolitan Opera Company signed up a tenor named John McCormick, who hits A above high C, which the Met said was the highest tenor range in the world.

"I can sing higher than that," said the 28-year-old architect. For a skeptical Detroit teacher, Peters hit B flat above high C. The note reverberated in the ears of a Met talent scout. A Detroit manufacturer heard it, too, and when the Met stopped listening, he pulled some strings.

The result was a two-year contract with the Met and a $5000 check from Peters' anonymous sponsor.

Peters doesn't think he'll be

Arthur Peters: "I can sing higher than that ..."

going back to his drawing board this time. He figures that teacher in Milan made a pretty good prediction after all, even of a machine gun isn't much of an accompaniment for a tenor reaching for B flat above high C.

VENEZUELA TO PRODUCE IRON

Steel-Hungry U. S. Will Have New Supply

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. steel industry, faced with depleted natural resources at home and a world-wide demand for the goods and gadgets of the war-battered machine age, is looking southward to the iron ore of mineral-rich Venezuela to supplement domestic reserves of raw materials.

Although Venezuela is better known to international markets for huge oil output, this South American nation possesses all kinds of other resources—from gold, diamonds, and pearls to coal, asphalt, and iron, notes the National Geographic Society.

The important iron deposits are found in the largely untapped treasure chests of Venezuela's "Wild East." In the raw country south of the lower Orinoco and along the Caroni River, two North American steel companies now are engaged in preliminary and advanced operations, under new and old concessions.

High grade in quality, the iron ore available is estimated at more than a billion tons. By 1950, it is predicted, Venezuela's ore exports may amount to several million tons.

Old Efforts Abandoned

Iron mining in this part of the country is not new. In 1912, some 12,000 tons of ore were obtained from the Imataca Ranges south of the Orinoco. In 1913, the output jumped to nearly 57,000 tons. The activity was short lived, however, as World War I loomed, and problems of transportation and living mounted. The mining machinery was transferred by the government to coal fields at Naricual, near the Caribbean coast. Today's "iron rush" is bringing many changes to the jungle-covered plains and uplands of eastern Venezuela. Malarial swamps have been drained. New docks, storage facilities, and an airport have been built on the upper part of San Felix, on the Orinoco. New camps, workshops, power plants, schools, and other community structures are rising at the mining sites to the south. Railroads and motor roads are under way.

It is planned that the ore mined by both U. S. companies will be shipped out by way of the Orinoco, and the river dredged if necessary. Opening on the Atlantic, the Orinoco mouth is 1,700 air-miles from the nearest point on the United States mainland.

More Balanced Economy

Although a major item, iron is only one of Venezuela's raw materials which have received attention in recent years with efforts to balance the country's long oil-dominated economy.

The army group which came to power with the recent overthrow of the previous government under President Romulo Gallegos found a long and varied list of precious and industrial resources on the national inventory.

Prominent are the gold and diamond fields of the Guiana highlands, near the iron mountains; and the old pearl fisheries off Margarita Island; the rubber and orchids of the Orinoco jungles; the coal and salt works; some copper, mercury, tin, lead, mica, and emeralds; and the big pitch lake near the Gulf of Paria.

SALES TAXES ON INCREASE

Marquette Leads U. P. In Revenue

Marquette county still tops the Upper Peninsula in the amount of sales taxes paid to the state, the total of $1,134,560.69 being almost one-fifth of the $6,741,333.09 collected throughout the Peninsula in 1948.

Marquette county's tax collections last year represented an increase of almost 20 per cent over the $950,368.53 paid to the state in the previous year. The largest percentage increase was shown for Keweenaw, but its gain of 29 per cent amounted to less than $9,000.

According to the annual report of Louis M. Nims, commissioner of the Michigan department of revenue, Houghton and Delta counties trailed Marquette in the amounts paid into the state treasury.

An increase of 18 per cent, more than $1,000,000 was shown in collections for the entire U. P. last year.

Nahma Children Given TB Tests

Nahma, Mich.—Tuberculin tests were given to students in the eighth and twelfth grades at the F. W. Good school on Monday. Because of the slight incidence of the disease among children, the state departments' mobile x-ray units are examining only those over 14 years of age. The tests at the school were made by Dr. John W. Towey, superintendent of the Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers. He was assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Boyle, school nurse.

The mobile x-ray unit will be in Nahma on Friday, Feb. 4. The examination is free and requires only a short time. It is most important that everyone submit to the examination because the early detection of tuberculosis can mean a quick cure and fast recovery. Annual examination of every chest is recommended.

U.P. National Guard Administrative Men Will Attend School

Staff Sergeant Vernon Rousseau, administrative assistant and supply sergeant of the Delta county National Guard unit here, and administrative assistants from 39 other communities in Michigan will attend a training school Feb. 14-21 in the Detroit artillery armory, Brig. Gen. George C. Moran, the Adjutant General of Michigan, announces.

Approximately 125 officers and men will participate in the training school sponsored jointly by the Michigan Military Establishment and the National Guard Bureau. Guardsmen will undergo five days of intensive instruction and study. They will be quartered in the armory.

Sergeant Rousseau and other administrative assistants were appointed recently in every company-size unit in Michigan to relieve commanders of the load of army "paper work" and permit them to devote more time to actual training.

Officers have been assigned to handle administrative duties in battalions and regimental headquarters and enlisted men serve as administrative assistants in company-size units.

Company C in Delta county has three National Guardsmen on fulltime duty. They are Staff Sergeant LeRoy Erickson, unit caretaker; Lloyd Lessard, maintenance, and Sergeant Rousseau, administrative assistant.

Other U. P. administrative assistants will attend the school are Capt. Anton Battuello, battalion headquarters, Calumet; Master Sergeant Bing Boberg, Company A, Calumet; Staff Sergeant Gerald F. Chambers, headquarters and service company, Marquette, and Pfc. A. Halonen, Company B, Sault Ste. Marie.

The Doctor's Self-Appointed Helper

When you are ill, avoid the well-meaning friend who offers helpful advice. What cured grandmother's boils may be no good for your carbuncle. The tea that brought out little Jennie's measles ten years ago may not be worth a whoop for Tommy.

There can be but one remedy for either you or Tommy. That is the one your doctor prescribes. After the prescription? A licensed, registered pharmacist, capable of following the doctor's orders to the letter. That is where we come in, with our up-to-the-minute prescription service. Our business is filling prescriptions. Bring us yours.

Typical of "young look" styling started in St. Louis spring fashion collections is this jaunty two-piece outfit. Vanilla-colored linen makes a vest with contrasting brown- and beige-checked sleeves and back, posed above a skirt of brown crepe. Another example is the showy stole which mantles simple dress (far left) of matching leopard print combined with black crepe.

Soft Shoe New In Spring Fashions

February Glamour presents the soft dress shoe... a shoe that decorates and protects the feet but never binds.

Historical forerunner of the soft shoe is the ballet slipper which grew overnight from a playshoe to an important American fashion. These same characteristics are now found in a day-time shoe, built with little or no toe boxing and minuscule counter construction... a shoe that is as soft and conforming as a glove and as completely flexible.

Shoes have the oldest sizing story in the world. Because the health and disposition of the wearer depends upon the fit of a shoe, an enormous amount of scientific study has gone into shoe making.

Shoe sizes were established by decree by Edward 2nd, King of England, as far back as 1324. Variations in size were measured on a 1/2" basis. Since then there have been infinite refinements and improvements in the science of precise sizing for precise comfort, but the size-to-size method of determining measurements remains 1/2"... and shoes come in as many as 166 different sizes. Today, these studies have culminated in shoes that are dressed to the hilt, but have all the comfort of the proverbial "old shoe." This spring, this new soft shoe construction is still limited—but Glamour predicts that it will be widely accepted by fall 1949.

Reverse Combing
Thickens HairBy ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If you find that your hair isn't as thick as it used to be, try combing it in reverse when you dress it.

That's another way of telling you to "tease" or "rat" your hair, a trick which top-notch hair-dressers use without any qualms. They claim no harm is done to "ratted" hair. The tangles are brushed gently out.

Any section of hair may be "ratted" at back, front or sides. Sometimes a woman needs to thicken her hair all around in order to puff out skimpy contours. Faulty head contours can also be masked by the simple trick of thickening the hair to fill out flat areas.

If hair is slippery or sleazy, particularly after it is freshened up by a shampoo, reverse-combing will usually give it more "body" and will help to keep it better anchored to the head.

When a permanent is so far gone that curls refuse to take shape, this problem can also be solved by gently "teasing" each curl from the inside when wispie locks are being dressed.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You receive an invitation to a wedding and the reception afterward.

WRONG WAY: Feel that it does not require an answer.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that the bride's parents need to know how many guests to expect at the reception and answer the invitation.

SITUATION: A person you have just met makes a remark that can be taken two ways, though you know that he does not mean the remark to be interpreted in a way that is complimentary to you.

WRONG WAY: Catch him up on it, making him protest, "But I didn't mean it that way."

RIGHT WAY: Let it pass, rather than run the risk of embarrassing him, and making him feel that he has created an awkward situation.

Hook Handbag To Table

HANG your handbag from the table if you are tired of rescuing a purse that slides off lap or trips up waiters when you dine. Ready to keep your purse safely anchored is a new folding hook which clamps to the edge of a restaurant table. As pictured, you can hang up a purse by its strap to a hook which takes up no space at all on a table top. When dinner is finished the gadget may be folded into its own tiny case and carried in the purse.

Follow Simple
Rules To Assure
Success of PartyBy RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Follow these rules and it's almost a cinch that guests at your house will enjoy themselves.

One. Remember that the success or failure of your party will depend in large measure on how you mix your guests. Don't try to mix dull couples and couples who are fun. If you have to entertain dull couples have them together. Then nobody but the host and hostess has to suffer through an evening that is bound from the start to fail flat.

Two. Give your guests the best you have, and then make no apologies.

Keep It Simple

Three. Don't make your entertaining so much more fancy than your everyday living that you're in a dither by the time your guests arrive. Keep things simple enough so that you can manage without knocking yourself out.

Four. Don't let any one person monopolize the conversation. The hostess who lets one guest take over isn't being fair to the other guests.

Five. Take it easy. A relaxed hostess does more to make a party a success than having everything go off according to plan.

Simple Social
Life Is BestBy RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

One thing that makes modern life so hectic is that most couples accept and give too many "let's-get-it-over-with" invitations.

"We're going to the Joneses this evening," Mama says with finality and when Papa groans out loud she explains as if to a child: "But I've made up excuses the last three times they've asked us over. After all, I can't go on making excuses forever."

Or it's the other way around and Mama says firmly, "We've simply GOT to do something about the Jones. Let's have them over for dinner one night this week and get it over with."

Nobody Knows

And so it goes. Nobody, of course, knows what percentage of social life is made up of just such "let's-get-it-over-with" get-togethers. But from the way men groan about going out and the way women talk of entertaining as a chore that has to be done, the percentage must be pretty high.

Just think how much more time couples would have for themselves, and how much more time they really want to do if everybody would suddenly stop accepting and offering "let's-get-it-over-with" invitations.

And it really wouldn't be so hard a thing to do. Once a couple has stopped extending "let's-get-it-over-with" invitations, it's a cinch they'll soon stop receiving them.

The first few times of saying "let's skip it," instead of "let's get it over with," are the hardest.

Mix 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs with a few tablespoons of sugar and about 1-3 cup melted butter or margarine; spread the crumb mixture over the bottom of a pie plate, pressing down evenly with the palm of the hand. Chill about an hour before adding a custard filling or one made of fruit and whipped cream.

Six. Enjoy your guests. That's just as important as trying to see that your guests enjoy themselves.

Seven. Let your guests leave when they want to. The hostess who pouts and teases guests to stay longer than they want to is one of the reasons why so many husbands hate to go out in the evening.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures
A Valentine Party is THE party of the year for teen-agers. Girls can dress up in their most romantic date dresses, put on their best lovable manners and even act coy.

If you are giving the party, do everything the hearts-and-flowers way. Invitations, favors and decorations all should be set in the love mood.

You can make an unusual invitation, but you may need some help. Here's what you do:

Take a red heart which you have cut out of heavy mat paper, attach it to a large paper clip with cellophane tape. The clip should protrude slightly from the center-top of the heart. Tie a rubber band to the other end of the clip. Take a toothpick and attach it to the outside end of the clip with a piece of wire which should run back over the clip about an inch. Turn that end of the wire into a loop. Now attach the rubber band which is on one end of the clip to the loop of wire. The rubber band should fit with enough slack so that the toothpick may be twisted about twenty-five times or so.

Write your invitation on the heart before you start to work on it. When the job is finished insert the heart (keeping the rubber band wound up) within a folded piece of white mat paper. These invitations will create quite a stir when opened and the red heart flies out.

Paring Off
Make some good sized hearts, take a scissors and cut each one in half in a jagged fashion. One side of the heart should be put in box marked "girls," the other side should be put in box marked "boys." When the guests arrive, girls pick out of the girl box, boys out of the boy box, then the kids pair off by matching up their hearts.

Where To Sit?
Tie a ribbon bow at the back of each chair with a heart name card attached. Or use a conventional name card on the table clipping a small bow to each ladies' card with a bobby pin.

The bow then can be worn in the hair.

Yum-Yum
You don't want to spend all your time in the kitchen, so prepare everything in advance. Chicken a la king or spaghetti can be all set for reheating. You can buy or make heart-shaped pastry containers for the chicken dish. Put strips of pimiento across the top. Tomato rabbit is a good alternative but takes a little more time to reheat properly. Punch should be a good red one made with cranberries or grape juice. A heart-shaped raspberry gelatin dessert with a border of whipped cream is tasty and appropriate.

Have-A-Heart
A fun-game which also is intriguing for a Valentine's Party is a Quiz. You can make it a great big production or a simple one such as setting a time limit on guessing romantic figures of history and mythology, beginning with the letters V-A-L-E-N-T-I-N-E.

Some are: Viola (Shakespeare's Twelfth Night), Anthony (Marc), Leander (Greek Legend), Edward (Windsor), Nelson (Lord), Tristan, Isolde, Napoleon, Elizabeth (Browning).

This is not as simple as it looks, which makes the game all the more interesting. There can be forfeits-in-trade of letters for sale, etc. Figure out your own penalties.

URGES PISTOL BE OUTLAWED

Regarded As Cause Of Many Crimes

Denver, Colo.—The passage of legislation to abolish the manufacture, sale and ownership of pistols would curtail crime in this nation, according to Dr. Leo L. Spears of Denver.

In a recent Denver Post guest editorial, Dr. Spears pointed out that billions of dollars are being spent apprehending, prosecuting and supporting criminals as a result of the ease in obtaining handguns.

"A check into our criminal records will show that nine-tenths of the capital crimes of the United States were committed through the use in some manner of pistols," the Post editorial asserted.

Nine-tenths of the pistol-induced crime in the United States is the fault of the people who have condoned the traffic in pistols, their manufacturers and sales agencies and the lawmakers who have allowed such traffic to continue, Dr. Spears charged.

"They are more to blame than the youths who pull the triggers."

The doctor urged that immediate state and federal legislation be enacted to require the turning in and destruction of every pistol in the United States, except those owned by the armed forces, and making it a penitentiary offense for anyone to manufacture, buy, sell or own one.

"Even policemen should carry shotguns instead of pistols," Dr. Spears said.

Hundreds of supporting letters poured into the Denver Post following the printing of the guest editorial. Dr. Spears said that he has been deluged with requests to form a national organization to carry out the objectives set forth in his editorial.

A large group attended the dinner which was prepared by the WSCS and served by the Evening Service Guild.

Jury Blames Pilot, Gives Parachutist $5,000 In Lawsuit

Detroit, (AP)—The pilot, not the parachutist, was at fault in a freak air mishap over the Adrian airport in June, 1946, a circuit court jury has decided.

Principals in the unusual case were Sterling Mead, 50, the pilot, and Warren Berg, 27, the parachutist, both of Detroit.

Berg, a paratrooper veteran, was making an exhibition jump when Mead's small plane rammed into his parachute. Berg climbed up the tangled shroud lines and ended up astride the plane's tail.

But the propeller also was fouled up and the plane started downward. Berg released his second parachute and slowed the descent but the plane still was wrecked.

Mead filed a circuit court suit asking $1,400 damages to the plane. Berg, who suffered a broken back and fractured ankle, filed a counter claim for $25,000.

The jury before Judge Thomas E. Maher found Mead in error, threw out his claim and granted Berg a $5,000 judgement.

BERLIN ACTRESS

EARLY RISER. Ute is up and around by 7 a.m., starts her toilette by undoing her pigtails made up night before.

IN BERLIN today, young actresses who have visions of becoming a 1949 Marlene Dietrich have a rough road to travel. Let's take one of the girls on the Berlin stage—pert, blonde Ute Sielisch, a supporting actress in the hit play, "The Devil's General." She also is starred in a movie soon to be released, "Berlin Ballad." For her starring movie role she got 1,000 marks ($360). For her stage work, she gets 400 marks ($120) a month.

Ute lives in a partly bombed out building. Her apartment is pretty grim. In the kitchen is a little stove which she heats with coal and wood. Damp weather and not enough heat raise hob with the walls, so Ute does frequent calcimining. She takes her bath with the aid of a tea-kettle and basin. She reads and studies her role by candle-light. Ute's daily routine is pictured here.

BREAKFAST in the bomb-damaged kitchen consists of dry bread and ersatz coffee, which Ute's preparing for herself and her brother who goes to school. Sometimes they have margarine for the bread.

THE BATH. In her living room—the warmest room in her apartment—Ute uses a small basin and tea-kettle.

Art Class Will Resume Study Thursday Evening

E. H. Thompson, instructor of the art class being conducted as a part of the Adult Education program of Manistique, announces that classes will be resumed Thursday evening and that all who wish to continue will be welcome.

The course began as an eight weeks series, but when it was completed, many members, who have been impressed by the success of the program, asked for another eight weeks of it. A minimum of twelve students were required before this could be done, and little trouble was encountered in making this possible.

Much of the continued course will deal in color work—pastel, water color and, perhaps, oil. Classes will start at 7:30 o'clock. New students will be welcomed.

Former Residents Of Manistique Robbed in Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. Harold LaLonde, of Muskegon Heights, former residents of Manistique, tell of a recent previous experience in Chicago in which their parked car, which they had taken the trouble to lock before leaving was broken into and rifled.

On the weekend of Jan. 20, the couple went to Chicago, to spend Sunday with friends. They met the folks by appointment in front of the museum of Science and Industry about noon. Deciding to visit the museum before going on, they locked up the car and spent about an hour there. When they came out, they found that someone had smashed the window of the car, broken in and helped themselves to what they could lay their hands on, including Mrs. LaLonde's fur coat and his extra suit of clothes, jewelry, luggage and other clothing which the police appraised at $600 value.

The police promised to make a checkup of the pawn shops in an effort to check up on the goods, but gave no hope as to its being recovered.

Mrs. LaLonde, the former Mary Gehlke of Manistique, has asked the Press to recount this experience, stating, "I would like to have this written up for the paper so that it will serve as a warning to others. Maybe they'll keep our experience in mind when they go traveling."

Seney Once Had A Paul Bunyan Of Its Very Own

For what is perhaps the first time in its history, a community in Schoolcraft county has been featured in a comic strip.

In the Paul Bunyan feature of Monday's issue in the Daily Press, the town of Seney was mentioned to the effect that lumber jacks who made that town their headquarters were so tough that they used to practice kicking off pine knots with their bare toes.

John I. Bellaire, who spent ten years in Seney when the town's reputation was being made, thinks that there were some hard boiled lumberjacks who may have practiced something as outlandish as that and he adds that he is pretty sure that Paul Bunyan was there in person.

Anyway, he says, there was a huge Frenchman who worked in one of the nearby camps who was slightly in excess of seven feet in height and who wore a No. 15 shoe, the largest standard size obtainable. He complained dreadfully about the way his shoes cramped his feet.

This Joe—Mr. Bellaire has forgotten his real name—went to the barber shop once a year where he was given the works on both cranium and face with the barber's clippers. The barber would trim the matted mass like a sheep shearer would a lamb starting at the nape of the man's neck when he got to the man's chin the hair would fall in a roll into a newspaper and be promptly transferred to the stove.

One winter, when the snow was more than waist deep and the supply team couldn't get through, Joe was delegated to get the meat into camp. He made three trips of many miles that day, each time carrying a huge quarter of block beef on his shoulder.

He left Seney for the Klondike in 1899 and was never heard of again.

The NWM schedule will be completed and playoffs will be out of the peninsula high school tournament play, it was announced today by A. L. Menchini, Norway, secretary of the NWM Basketball league.

The action taken by league officials at a recent meeting obviously was the result of conflicts in the past and complaints that the independent season lasted too long. It was the consensus that everything should be cleaned up before high school tournament time.

Menchini said the spring meeting of the NWM Basketball league would be held in Escanaba two weeks after the final playoffs.

Manistique at Sault Ste. Marie.
Newberry at Munising.

Ishpeming knocked Gladstone out of the undefeated ranks and Negaunee added two games to its undefeated record to highlight play in the Great Lakes basketball conference last week.

Gladstone went on the Ishpeming court Friday night sporting three wins in as many games but was sent into third place with 59-21 shellacking from the Hermansville.

Negaunee, playing on its home court, defeated Manistique 35-40 Friday and followed that with a 59-41 win over Sault Ste. Marie Saturday. Those were the only games played in the conference last week.

A check of the season record to date, reveals the Miners also are the top offensive team in the circuit.

Playing seven conference tilts, the Miners have piled up a total of 330 points for an average of 47.1 a game. Their opponents have scored a total of 265 points, for an average of 37.8 points a game. Ishpeming owns the next best offensive average with 40.8 a game, just a shade ahead of Gladstone's 40.5 average.

Conference teams have found Munising the easiest to score against as Munising's defensive record shows teams have scored an average of 46.1 points a game. Gladstone and Sault Ste. Marie hold the next rankings with a defensive record of 40 points a game.

The top scoring record in one game is shared jointly by Ishpeming and Negaunee. Ishpeming scored 59 points against Gladstone and Negaunee got the same against Soo. The lowest score in one game—20—was by Munising in a game with Newberry, as the Indians won 46-20.

Radar Housed In Plane Wing Tips

Hagerstown, Md., (SS)—A place to carry radar equipment on airplanes without using valuable cargo space has been discovered. It is a wing tip, in bomb-like casing similar to the tanks used on jet planes to carry extra fuel.

These experimental wing-tip radar-dome have been successfully tested here by Fairchild Aircraft on a Fairchild C-119, the unmodified version of the well-known box-car packet. They were developed for the U. S. Air Force at the request of the Air Materiel Command at Wright Field.

Dubbed radomes, they are made of plastic and built into special wing tip sections adaptable for Fairchild planes of the present and future. The radar equipment, mounted in the left wing-tip dome, weighs about 200 pounds. Standard radio equipment which was moved to the right wing to balance the ship, also eliminates two antennae usually mounted on the plane's exterior.

1500 Fans See 20-Bout Final Fight Program

By JAMES G. WARD
Sports Editor

A near-capacity crowd of 1,500 fight fans howled their appreciation for a fast 20-bout championship card in the finals of the seventh annual Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament at the junior high school gym here last night.

Two distinct knockouts, eight TKOs and three rousing split-decision scraps highlighted an interesting card that was generally at a higher level than the 1948 Upper Michigan tournament but lacked its hair-raising climactic bouts, such as the George Dougherty - Leonard Sharkey melees.

But there was plenty of spice on this year's program.

Witness, for instance, Joe Brunette's dynamic attack on Vernon Dionne, Marinette, in a special match that showed conclusively the little Canadian Soo 118-pounder has sharpened considerably since last year and will be even more potent next week in the Milwaukee regional classic. Dionne, 126-pound U. P. open champion, gave evidence of being able to take care of himself as well.

What To Expect

In the novice division, you can look for Leo Leask, American Soo 112-pounder, Wayne Tufnell, Manistique 126-pounder, and Emmett Fagan, Manistique, in the 135 class, to give a good account of themselves in Milwaukee. They looked particularly sharp in semi-final and final triumphs last night.

Other U. P. champion showed plenty of gameness and spirit, but this trio among the novices and Brunette, Dionne and Bumbacco among the open scrappers appeared to have the best chance of coming through in the regional event.

Eleven of the 16 U. P. titlists won their championships the hard way by fighting through elimination rounds. The other five are champions by virtue of not having competition, but that by no means detracts from their right to represent U. P. in Milwaukee.

Golden Gloves Spirit

Those five are Fred Bumbacco, Canadian Soo, the two-fisted bag of dynamite who made such a hit in winning the 112 novice here last year; Brunette, who needs no introduction; Vernon Dionne, George Dougherty, who wanted to fight Leonard Sharkey more than anything else this year, and Fred Bloniarz, the heavyweight contender from Peronville.

All are in the open division. It is a tribute to the spirit of Golden Gloves that every one of the U. P. novice champions won his title the hard way. That is the Golden Gloves—competition from new scrappers coming up—and, of course, in the open class as well from veterans who know their way around.

If all 16 champions are able to make the trip, it will mark the first time the U. P. has ever been represented by two full novice and open teams in the Milwaukee regionals. They're scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 9-10, and the teams will leave here Tuesday.

Crowd-Pleasers

Two of the best crowd-pleasers last night were the Valentine-Fagan and Crawford-Lindstrom finals, and both were split decisions. Young Emmett Fagan, Manistique 135-pounder, incidentally, figured in two split round bouts last night, edging Ben Pascuzzi, Canadian Soo, in the semi-finals and Jim Valentine, the home town favorite, in the finals.

Escanaba's champions are Rod Lindstrom, 160 novice, and John Stropich, light heavy open. Lindstrom figured in one of two kaycees on the final card.

But Walter Wendt, Menominee, to sleep with a right to the ribs at 135 of the second round in the semi-finals and then outlasted Paul Crawford, Manistique, in a rip-roaring finale, a slugfest that saw both scrappers willing to mix plenty until they tired in the third round. Rod's aggressiveness in the second and third rounds scored heavily for him.

Fagan Sharp Puncher

Valentine took a unanimous decision from Leonard Fox, Munising, in a semifinal bout. He scored with a left jab, body punches and a solid right and protected his lead with a two-fisted flurry in the third.

But against Fagan's sharp left jab and quick counter punching, a tired Valentine met his match. It was close all the way, however. Fagan had a bit the edge on aggressiveness in the second. Jim's closing flurry almost pulled the bout out of fire.

Game little Wayne Tufnell, Manistique, enveloping a hard overhand right, figured in one of the two kaycees of the evening. After defeating Walt Stonevski, American Soo, he clinched his title with hard rights that hurt Hubert Vezina, Negaunee, and finally kayced him at 1:50 of the first round.

Actually, it was the only clear cut knockout of the evening, although there was no doubt about Lindstrom's body punch taking all the fight out of Wendt in the 160 novice semifinals.

AFTER THE DINNER . . . THE HARDWARE GAME!

The outstanding independent basketball game of the year will be played at Bonifas gym at 9:15 tonight as the Hermansville Silver Foxes square off against the Delta Hardwares. Hermansville, currently considered one of the best teams in the Upper Peninsula, is in first place in the NWM loop. The Hardwares' last season's NWM champions, are undefeated in UP competition, but tonight they face their first real test. Year after year, the meeting of these two old rivals is the high spot of the basketball season.

Two of the top National League quintets meet in the preliminary at 7:30. Cloverland College is the loop leader with seven wins and no losses while Liberty Loan is in third place with a four and two record.

The Liberty Loans will present an All-Hirn quintet in the preliminary. Although the five starters will be Bill Ferrari, Bob McCarthy, John Hirn, Dan Hirn, and Don Hirn the following Hirns will be on the floor at the same time before the final horn: Charles, Ray, John, Don, and Dan.

Cloverland College will start their three Zimmerman brothers—Dick, John, and Elroy—along with John Kulick and Manager Phil Cochran.

Officials will be Frank Nowack, of Spaulding, and Fred Boddy, of this city.

Teal's Occupy First In Class B Team Go In Women's Pin Meet

Teal's Evergreens last night took over first place in Class B team event in the annual Escanaba Women's Bowling association tournament in progress at the Arcade alleys here. A 1957 total did the trick.

In second place are the Pin Girls with 1846, followed by the Ramblers, 1842; Wadhams' 1840 and Kelly's 1813.

Otherwise, the downs remain the same in the annual tournament, which got underway only last weekend and will continue for several more weekends.

WELCOME

Philadelphians, Feb. 2 (AP)—The happiest fellow over the signing of Charley Bednarik by the Philadelphia Eagles is the man the former Penn gridiron ace is expected to replace, Vic Lindskog, first string center for the National Football League champions has been looking forward to the day when all-America Bednarik would officially become a member of the Eagles. That happened yesterday. "It won't be long now until I can quit active playing and devote all my time to coaching," Lindskog told General Manager Charley Ewart.

MAYER SALE

Los Angeles, Feb. 2 (AP)—The thoroughbred racehorse Empire that Louis B. Mayer spent 10 years and millions of dollars to develop is no more. All that remains is a herd of about 50 yearlings to be auctioned later this year. Sale of the movie man's 504-acre breeding farm at Perris, Calif., for a price estimated at more than $1,000,000 yesterday was the last major step in the breakup of the Mayer racing realm, started in 1938.

CMCE WINS

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Feb. 2 (AP)—For the 16th straight time, Central Michigan defeated Ferris Institute's eagles, 57 to 39, last night. The easy win was the Chippewas' 11th in 12 starts this season. They led 27-16 at the half.

Joe Scarcelli, guard on the 1948 Villanova football squad, has landed a job as a junior scientist with a government agency.

All five starters on Villanova's basketball team are juniors. There are four more juniors and three sophomores on the 12-man squad.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

BY JIM WARD

Caught on the rebound: It was like old home week for us to gaze upon the countenances of Al Jacobson, Miles Betts and George Hurley, Marquette judges, with the fight crowd at the Golden Gloves . . . Jacobson and I used to talk up the Upper Peninsula while caving on Okinawa in the recent fracas . . . Jim Mancini, Iron Mountain, falls in the old-home-week category also . . . We used to live in Iron Mountain, also, and Mancini and I usually manage to swap a story or two.

It was a successful tournament . . . The general level of boxers was high, but we couldn't help but wish Leonard Sharkey had shown up to take on George Dougherty, of Munising . . . Dougherty all but beat Sharkey last year, you recall, and Dougherty has been working, training, dreaming and planning for a chance to get even . . . He thought he'd get it last night . . . But Sharkey was conspicuous by his absence.

Without Morley Ostertag and Joe Brunette in competitive action, a Dougherty-Sharkey bout would have been the caper to a swell night of fistic entertainment . . . Like we said, the tourney was a success, but the only thing it lacked was that rousing climax of a match between two expert and closely-matched scrappers or a "grudge" fight as the Dougherty-Sharkey.

Cuff notes: The Iron Range Rifle club will be host to the annual U. P. Gallery shoot April 9-10 . . . Walt Kiesling says he'll not return as Green Bay Packer line coach next fall . . . He wasn't too happy about the way things were going last fall and probably will welcome a change . . . We have it on good authority that Kiesling was the only Packer coach who had the sincere respect of all the players . . . That's because he believed in football fundamentals and was a hard worker . . . Curley Lambeau is reported to have advised Walt to take a year's vacation for his health . . . It was not only Kiesling's health that was bothering him last fall.

Someone asked us the other day if we thought the Escanaba Bears would be admitted to the Rainbow league this coming baseball season . . . It's a good question . . . After fading out in the stretch the past two seasons, one wonders why league bigwigs would permit them another try . . . But maybe the third time would be the charm.

Referee Jim Mancini, Iron Mountain, did a good job of keeping his eyes on the young scrappers and preventing needless damage. As a result, eight TKOs were recorded. Under circumstances other than Golden Gloves supervision, it is likely most of these would have developed into later clear-cut knockouts.

Complete Results

Complete results of last night's card:
126-pound novice semifinals—Wayne Tufnell, Manistique, defeated Walt Spisniewski, American Soo, and Hubert Vezina, Negaunee, TKO 1:55 first round over Pete Wheaton, Menominee. Finals—Tufnell kayced Vezina 1:50 first round.

135-pound novice semifinals—Jim Valentine, Escanaba, defeated Leonard Fox, Munising, and Emmett Fagan, Manistique, won split round over Ben Pascuzzi, Canadian Soo, with sharp counterpunching and infighting. Finals—Fagan won very close split decision over Valentine.

147 novice semifinals—Norman Dionne, Marinette, default over John Wood, Peshigo, Wis., and John Elson, Marinette, won by TKO 1:05 first round over Bob Pengrazzi, Caspian. Finals—The more experienced Dionne was surprised when he walked into a right uppercut that kayced him at 1:30 second round. Elson's low "wrestling" crouch gave Dionne some trouble.

160 novice semifinal—Paul Crawford, Manistique, scored two knockdowns with rights. Gale Phalen, Menominee, proved plenty game, but it was unanimous decision for Crawford. Rod Lindstrom, Escanaba, kayced Walter Wendt, Menominee, at 1:35 second round. Finals—A scrap from start to finish. Lindstrom took split decision.

112 novice finals—Southpaw Howard Greenwood, Menominee, was no match for Leo Leask, American Soo. He was saved by the bell ending the first round, and sharp-punching Leask took it by TKO at 1:07 in the second.

118 novice finals—Bob Minor, won a unanimous decision over colored Vernon Johnson, Manistique, in a real crowd-pleaser. Both boys were willing to mix and did aggressively for three fast rounds. The crowd would have booed it either way. They did when it went Minor's way. Pinsky Mitchell made his debut as a referee in this one.

175 novice finals—George Atanasoff, Caspian, won by split nod over John Rademacher, Escanaba, in a mauling bout. George built

Gladstone Indians Host To Esky Hawks Tonight

Gladstone, Feb. 2—Memories of that rip-roaring 4-4 deadlock last month in Escanaba will be rampant when the Escanaba Hawks and Gladstone Indians tangle here at 8:15 tonight in a U. P. Hockey league clash.

Violent Ray Ranks 6th On Louis' List

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—Joe Louis took his second look at Elmer (Violent) Ray as an exhibition opponent and today the heavyweight champion put Ray down as sixth in his list of logical contenders.

Louis figured Ezzard Charles, who's been battling as a light heavy, is the top-ranking challenger. He put Lee Savold in second place.

Savold was number two and Jersey Joe Walcott number three, the champ said, only because he has not met Savold and has already beat Walcott twice.

Its only other rated heavyweight was Ezzard Charles.

Joe Baksi came next in Louis' ratings and then Gus Lesenevich, also head of Ray. Louis didn't make any ratings beyond sixth.

Munising Host To Newberry

Munising—Mather high school's Mustangs are going to try again Friday night for their third victory of the season, and for the occasion they're bumping into the strong Newberry high Indians.

The game will be played at 8:15 Friday night here in Mather gymnasium. A preliminary will start at 7:15.

Except for a surprising win over Ishpeming early in the campaign and a more routine one over Baraga (of Marquette) a few weeks ago, the Mather Mustangs haven't had their share of wins this winter. Among the eight defeats they have suffered was one at the hands of the Indians on Dec. 3.

Sports Briefs

Chicago—James C. Thompson, Chicago banker, was disclosed as head of the new syndicate backing the Chicago Hornets, formerly the Rockets in the All America Football Conference.

New York—Bob Chappuis and Bob Hornsbecker, halfbacks, were among 26 players given Chicago of the AAC in the distribution of Brooklyn talent. Yankees, who combined with Brooklyn, got seven.

Philadelphia—The National Football league Philadelphia Eagles signed Chuck Bednarik, All America center from Pennsylvania.

Baseball—Signed: Outfielder Richie Ashburn and First Baseman Eddie Waitkus by Philadelphia (NL); First Baseman Ted Kluszewski, Outfielder Frank Baumholtz and Third Baseman Grady Hatton by Cincinnati (NL); Pitchers David Cole, Johnny Fetzner and Edward Post by Boston (NL); Infielder Eddie Lake by Detroit (AL); Pitcher Rex Barney by Brooklyn (NL); Pitcher Ernie Bonham by Pittsburgh (NL).

up early lead, and John tried comeback but both tired in the third.

Heavy novice finals—John Hruska, Manistique, used a dynamite left to good advantage to put John Bloniarz, Escanaba, away in 1:12 of the first round. Both came out swinging and kept at it until Hruska scored two quick knockdowns and then jabbed a left that was enough for Bloniarz although he was still on his feet.

135 open finals—All Massey, American Soo, used a 1-2 punch, a left jab and a right cross, to TKO Jim Froberg, Escanaba, by the end of the second round.

147 open finals—Dick Nolan, Canadian Soo, scored four distinct knockdowns over Stan Kuzmerik.

Munising, who, if nothing else proved he could take it. He was game all the way through, but Nolan's southpaw stance and hard left were too puzzling and too damaging. It ended with a TKO at 1:30 in the third round.

John Stropich, Escanaba, won TKO over Fred Bloniarz, Perronville, in a special match, and the Brunette-Dionne affair was recorded as a no-decision affair. Stropich is a light heavy and Bloniarz a heavy.

Munising Cox Five Will Tangle With Gladstone Legion

Gladstone, Feb. 2—The Gladstone Legion cage quintet will entertain the Cox Chevs of Munising in a return game on the local court Thursday evening.

The Legionnaires are looking for revenge for in an earlier meeting at Munising the Chevs jumped the local crew, 49-42. Fresh from a 42-31 win over Manistique Pulp and Paper Saturday night they hope to continue in the win column.

In the Munising lineup will be Whitmore, the two Steinhoffs, Pangborn, Boyak, Rousseau, Pelletier, Lundborn and Siglund.

The Gladstone Lions will play the first of a double bill with some Escanaba team as opponent, starting at 7:15 o'clock.

Another game which should prove of interest to local fans is being arranged. This is a "grudge" battle between the Legion and Lions scheduled for Thursday evening, Feb. 17.

The teams have met twice previously and both times the Lions were returned victors, the first time by a score of 55-44, the second by 37-36.

U-M GETS TROPHY

Detroit, Feb. 2 (AP)—The University of Michigan, undefeated on the football field in 23 straight games, made room in its trophy cases today for a prized addition, the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell Memorial trophy emblematic of the 1948 National Collegiate championship.

HUTCHINSON BALKS

Detroit, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers ran into another balk today as they counted four more signed contracts in and 29 players in the fold for 1949. The balk was by Freddie Hutchinson, 29-year-old righthanded pitcher, who refused to sign for the same $18,000 salary he is believed to have drawn last season.
